Be An Alumni Mentor!

The Concordia Alumni Mentor Program (C.A.M.P) is a free service running from September to May where students are matched with alumni who share similar career fields, geographic locations or other interests. The goal is to promote relationships between students and alumni through which career consulting and networking opportunities can emerge. Students are given the chance to discuss their studies and/or career options with someone who has gone before them while alumni volunteers can give back to their alma mater by giving current students some practical career advice.

Mentorship is one of the most rewarding endeavours you can undertake both professionally and personally. As a mentor you will be given the opportunity to enhance your leadership skills as you share your experience and expertise with up and coming colleagues. You can help a student make the most out of their university experience.

Email Kate O'Gorman, Development & Alumni Relations Officer with your request to be a volunteer mentor
